

Anthony

I want to become a leader who works to enhance access and success for underrepresented students, especially Native students. Throughout my career, I have witnessed the lasting impact that college recruiters, advisors, and student support professionals have on students' educational journeys. I want to expand my understanding of college access, student transitions, and support services while developing the leadership skills needed to foster meaningful relationships and advocate for equitable opportunities. My goal is to become a change agent in higher education who helps Native students navigate college with confidence, achieve their academic goals, and strengthen their future.
